

1200 Parasol Place

Small shrub:

Beach rosemary (Conradina Canescens)

- 3' tall
- Full sun
- Evergreen sprawling shrub

Saw Palmetto (Serenoa repens)

- 5'-10' tall and 4'-10' wide
- Full sun but will grow in most lights.
- Slow growing, clumping, multi-trunked palm.
- High drought and salt tolerance.
- Excellent habitat for wildlife. Its berries are beneficial to many mammals and birds. Host plant for larvae of the palmetto skipper and monk butterflies.

Coontie (Zamia integrifolia)

- While this plant does possess palm or fern-like properties, it is a Cycad. This Florida native is the only Cycad in North America.
- 2'-3' tall and 3' wide
- Full sun to full shade
- High drought and salt tolerance once established.
- Stiff glossy fern-like leaves attached to an underground stem.

Excellent choice for coastal landscape applications.

Grasses:

Muhly Grass (Muhlenbergia capillaris)

- 2-3' tall, 3' wide
- Full sun, some shade
- Drought tolerant once established
- White flower OR Pink flower, fall flowering
- Often used in borders or mass plantings for beautiful, drift-like effect.
- Cut back in late winter before spring flush appears

Trees

Yaupon Holly (Ilex vomitoria)

- 15-25' tall, large species. Dwarf or Weeping forms available.
- Dense and shrubby, evergreen growth.
- Can be trained into small tree form with lower branches removed.

Beautyberry (Callicarpa americana)

- 3-8' tall, 4-8' wide
- Drought tolerant once established
- Branches form long arches that bend toward the ground.
- Small, pale lavender-pink flowers during spring and summer, maturing into jewel-like fruits by September.

Wax Myrtle (Morella cerifera)

- 10-20' tall, 20-25' spread, easily pruned for accent.
- Multi-stemmed, open, and rounded canopy
- Ideal for use as a small accent tree.
